SUMMER TERM

Light streaming through windows
Early in the morning.
Aroma of fresh cut grass
flowers,
warm summer rain.
Smiles on freckled faces.
Laughter,
birds chirping
a blue, blue sky.
Fluffy white clouds take shape up high summer is here.

Europe Tour

"Watch out Europe - here we come!" Over the spring break, Mr. Grey, Mrs. Towner, and Mr. Anderson led 35 of us crazy S.L.S. students around Europe. We first went to London, then Italy and then France. Some of the tour's highlight included: Miss Saigon, Blood Brothers, Chikito's, the hotel pub in London, the bathrooms, gypsies, Rude Roman men, meows, Venice, overnight trains, EUROPEAN NIGHT LIFE! and hundreds more! We all learned a lot about the different cultures, and people, and it was an experience none of us will ever forget!!

"I LOVE VENICE!" Medina Hahn & Sarah Houser cry out with joy while visiting Venice.

Cheers! Irfan, Alanna, Becky & Rica sit down for a drink at a bar in London.

CIAO! Janine, Irfan, Dominique & Doug enjoying St. Marco's Square.

French Immersion Trip

Un weekend en avril, un groupe des meilleurs étudiants de français onze est allé à Camp Colombie sur l'île de Thétis pour un séjour d'immersion. Le but de ce voyage était de parler français autant que possible. Ce n'était pas un but facile!

D'abord, personne n'a parlé beaucoup de français, sauf les professeurs M. Candelaria, Mme Leary, Mme Towner et Mme Carr. Mais après quelque temps, tout le monde parlait comme les fracophonies! Il y avait beaucoup de sports et d'activités comme le soccer, le baseball, "capturer le drapeau" et bien sûr, le "teeter-totter". Un soir, nous avons préparé le "Grand Dîner" qui était très délicieux.

Le weekend était incroyable et nous avons atteint notre but.

Salut Mes amis A group of French campers stop on their way down to a game of soccer.

Au revoir Thetis Island: Paula Navratil, Jenn Barratt, Chris Buchanan, Vicki Stronge, Alice Stephen say their final au revoir as the ferry leaves camp.

BIRDIES PARS AND BOGEYS

Coming into the '93 golf season, we believed that, although we could be reasonably competitive, it was going to be a developing year. This was not exactly the case.

We entered a couple of big tournaments in Victoria and faired pretty well.

The competitive team consisted of Wade Wagstaff, Jason Rai, Charles Lee, Doug DeBeck and myself. Alberto Diaz Barriga and Ryan Dicken were also involved in a couple of matches. There was much improvement from some of the juniors, namely John Upton and Kent Carnogursky.

I would like to thank our two coaches Mr. L. Fraser and Mr. G.O. Dickens. Most of all I'd like to thank all the boys for making my final season a great one and for playing so well when it really counted! I wish you all the best of luck in your future Golf careers. See ya in the P.G.A., guys!

"GONE WITH THE WIND"

The '92 - '93 Sailing Program has had a great deal of fun and excitement this year.

Under the excellent guidance of Mr. Grass and Mr. Sarsfield the many beginners that we had at the beginning of the season now show great promise for the future of Sailing at Shawnigan.

The Rogers Cup between Brentwood and S.L.S. was unfortunately badly attended by some of our best, due to A.P. interruption but we did our best and fought hard against tough competition. The other regattas were very instructional providing excellent experience for all participants.

I would like to thank personally both Mr. Grass and Mr. Sarsfield for 5 great years on the team and wish the Grasses the best of luck on their sabbatical. We sure will miss you.

Ode to our Club:

Walking down to the boathouse one day
We discovered a disaster to our dismay
The forces of Nature had arbitrarily chosen
Our Shawnigan Lake to be over frozen.
But deep in our hearts, rowers were we
So we loaded our boats & headed for the sea.
Upon return from Easter Break
God had defrosted our crystalline lake.
The juniors pulled ergs a while
While the seniors went out & rode a mile
(after mile, after mile, after mile...)
A shortage of fatties at the Varsity degree,
The lightweights took over quite successfully.
There was only one man who could make them the best
Someone spectacular, Mr. Lawry, no less.
Senior girls started the year as a group of eleven
But with so many "hurts", became Varsity Seven.
Mr. Yates had to suffer & watch from the shore
As he watched his girls shrink to J.V. Four
With a pair on the side and Kristen, too
A win in the double would satisfy that crew.
Sarah's bunch were hard workers all season.
Her thorough Kiwi tutelage must be the reason.
The Varsity Four, a curious lot,
Had a funny method to achieve the winner's spot.
They like to row naked and act really lewd
But if that's what it takes, hey - go ahead & row nude.
There is one bonding truth
That all oarheads know:
OTHERS PLAY GAMES,
REAL ATHLETES ROW.
Our mighty Power Tens are all we have needed,
Watch out world, Shaw's a force to be heeded!

BLADES OF GOLD

Much success came to our crews this year. A victory by the novice +8 at Shawnigan highlighted this year and several second places by the junior B+8 against a tough Brentwood crew. If you asked Piers he would say, "We slayed all those maggots arahhhghh!@#!!!!". It has been a great year of rowing and this year showed a great vote of confidence for the future. "You just have to keep on tourquen".

"Okay guys, focus in" Mr.
Keeling talking to his boys.

The Jr. girls' rowing program started off this year with a bang until the wrath of winter took over leaving us a frozen lake to deal with. So while the shells sat in the boathouse gathering dust we huffed and puffed through lots of land training. The lake defrosted in the middle of March and the crew jumped back in with renewed enthusiasm. Rowing had now really started. This year's crew was incredibly enthusiastic and I'm sure none of us will ever forget the regattas and all the things we did. The work payed off with the Shawnigan Lake Regatta where all the crews showed immense pride and dedication. All the crews worked extremely hard. The Jr.B+8 had a strong start to the season with a first at M a p l e B a y , performances at all the regattas and ended the season amazingly with a first at Shawnigan. The Novice +8 also placed at every regatta including their first at Delta Deas. Unfortunately our Novice +4 had many frustrating obstacles to overcome in their boat but they pulled through it all with a smile. It has been an excellent season for the Jr. girls' crew thanks to Ms. Montag and Ms. Lomas. Also congratulations to Sarah Bendall for the Outstanding Oarswoman award and good luck next year to all the oarheads!

TACKLING THE JOB

Well it's finally happened
yes its true,
We are happy to announce the first girls' rugby crew!

After petitioning and talking about being like the guys
Mr. Felix agreed and checked out the size.

We worked hard, we worked rough
And didn't complain when the coaches got tough.
And as our season comes to an end with few games
We are proud to be the first rugby dames.

Thanks to Mr. Felix and Mr. duPon
And all the others who came to support our going on
Good luck next year to this talented bunch
The future looks bright, We've just got a hunch.

Don't forget - S.L.S. IRONWOMEN!

As soon as the courts dried (thanks to our vast array of squeegees) we were out practising almost daily under the strict eyes of Mr. Candelaria and Mr. Furbee. Results were seen immediately as we conquered SMU, Mt. Doug and other Island schools. The true test came as we faced Brentwood; but, for the second year in a row, we narrowly defeated them to earn ourselves the "number one" ranking on the Island and an automatic berth at the provincial championships.

In this event we eventually placed 6th, the highest finish Shawnigan has had.

The level of tennis was very high. Eric Siu defeated Danny Alexander in the final of the Grogan Cup, Jenny Peters beat Zoë Stronge in the final of the Chu Cup and Eoin Cosgrave and Jenny Peters narrowly won against Cam McDowell and Melissa Cheevers in the final of the Coupe de toute saison.

Thank you to Mr. Candelaria & Mr. Furbee for coaching the senior team, Mr. Cox, Mr. Connolly and Mr. duPon for supervising the recreational programmes.

Junior Tennis

This year has been a very frustrating year for the Junior Tennis Program. The main reason for this disappointing season was the weather. Despite this term being called the summer term it rained for the majority of the time. Even with a minimal number of practices our team managed to earn respectable places in the ISA tournaments. With the help of Cam McDowell, Danny Alexander, Ken Mak and Jacob Hsieh the boys earned a 4th place at Brentwood and with the superb play of Jenny Peters, Melissa Cheevers, Sarah Graham, Janice Reimche and Morna Yuen, the girls came 2nd here at Shawnigan. There was a total of 16 members on this year's team with a very high level of talent and a strong foundation for the years to come in the tennis program. I'd like to thank Mr. Leary and Mrs. Grass for coaching us through-out this season and to Dennis Ma for being there at the ISA tournament. Thank you.

STICK

IT!

The prospects of this years' senior field hockey program did not look very good with the integration of rugby into the third term.

However the inspired hockey players returned as well as some new comers. With this combination we had enough players to begin an enjoyable, productive and talented term of Hockey.

There was little diversity in the teams we played. Nonetheless our undefeated record against Brentwood will be remembered. Although a second place in the Independent Schools Association with a defeat to St. Georges' is an excellent standing for us. Much of the team's improvement came from visits to the U-Vic turf.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Ms. Martin for all the time and effort she gave to the members of the entire Hockey program at Shawnigan.

I would like to wish the Hockey program the best of luck for next year.

Have fun.

ART & Literature

November 11th

He stood to give the address
His medals lined tediously on his left breast
His voice was low, methodical but if one listened closely to the deep reverence of his memories
it was astounding.

He spoke of happy times
before the war
He did not speak of the pain
the horror
Instead, he spoke of strategic decisions and political repercussions.

Then, he remembered those who were lost Simply, quietly and it was over.

O Canada was played and he stood straight at attention
swaying slightly from the effort.
His forehead was smooth, serene
Mine was wrinkled in concentration
Willing myself to understand.

I felt the great presence of the veterans scattered throughout the chapel
The very way they stood the way their eyes concentrated steadfastly ahead
It made me stand even straighter
Sing even louder
Feel even more
the power of what I was privy to.

They were remembering their comrades remembering a bond
that would last forever.

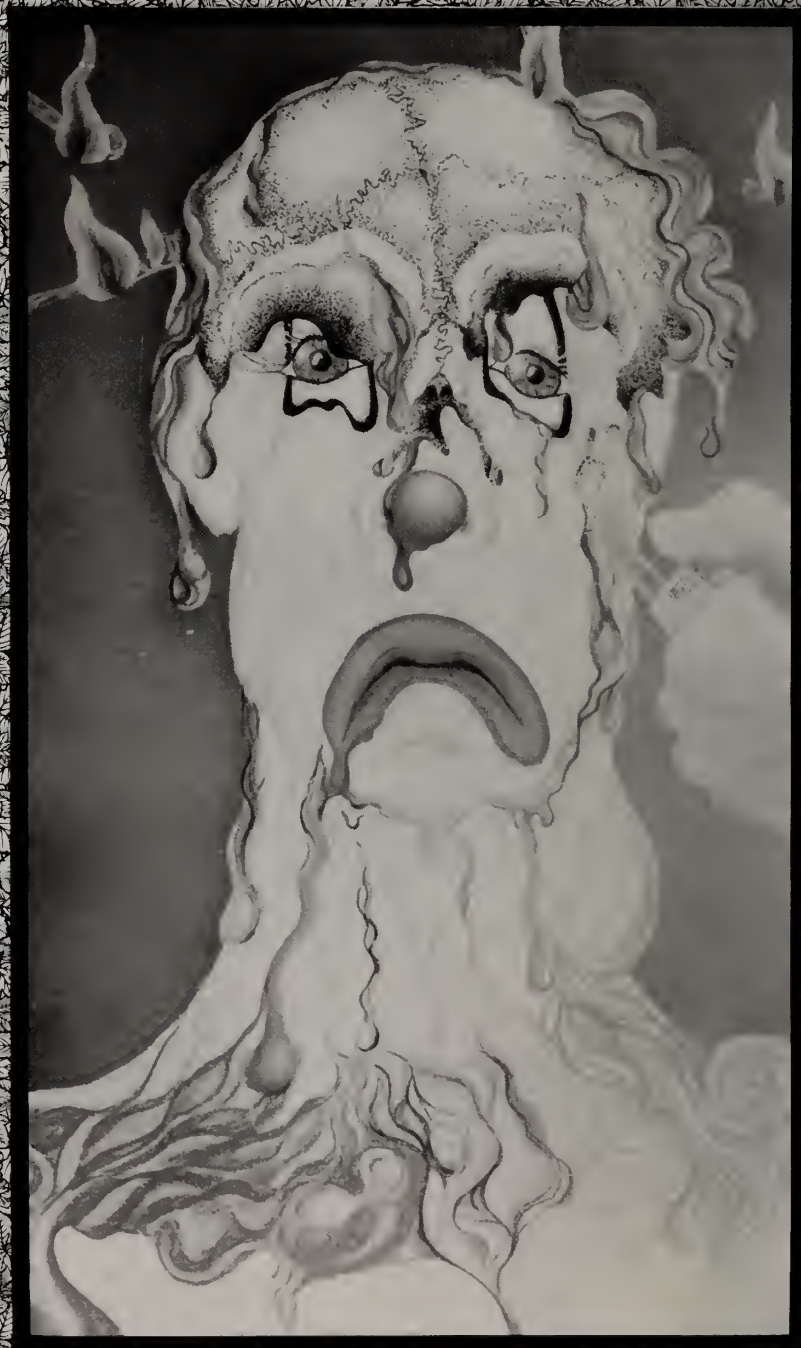

It was a generation
so different from my own.
As I watched them
I saw that a different breed was dying
I made a vow to myself that I would always remember
I will always remember.

From The Outside Looking In

We trusted, yet were betrayed
 We loved, yet were despised
 We were alive, yet life was torn from us,
 like a flower, ripped from the earth.
 Now we have no purpose or meaning,
 we stand alone and rejected,
 yet still we are here.
 We were created,
 even though unwanted.
 They watch us now,
 they ignore our soundless cries,
 of anger and of pain.
 From the outside looking in,
 the hatred and the shame
 can never be released.

The Deep End

On my magic carpet
 Heading towards the sun
 I pass the singing mermaids
 They tell me not to go on
 But I know there is something out there Waiting for me.

And as the sun slips between the waves of the rolling ocean
 I start to fall into the arms of the sand
 I slip through every grain
 And as I hear them call my name

I know it's over Every voice I've ever known screams at me 'this is the end' 'this is the end'
 But right before I hit the cold steel bottom
 The singing mermaids catch me in their breasts
 And swallow me into their hearts.

Jeni Millar (Gr. 11)

Atop A Mountain

I stand atop a mountain,
King of all that I can see.
My world is desecrating,
In this scene before me.

The friendship peaks are crumbling,
Seeds of love, they just won't grow,
The city of sorrow is building,
The happiness river is moving slow.

The army of pain ravages the land
With destruction growing evermore.
The people, once content and calm,
Are speaking words of war.

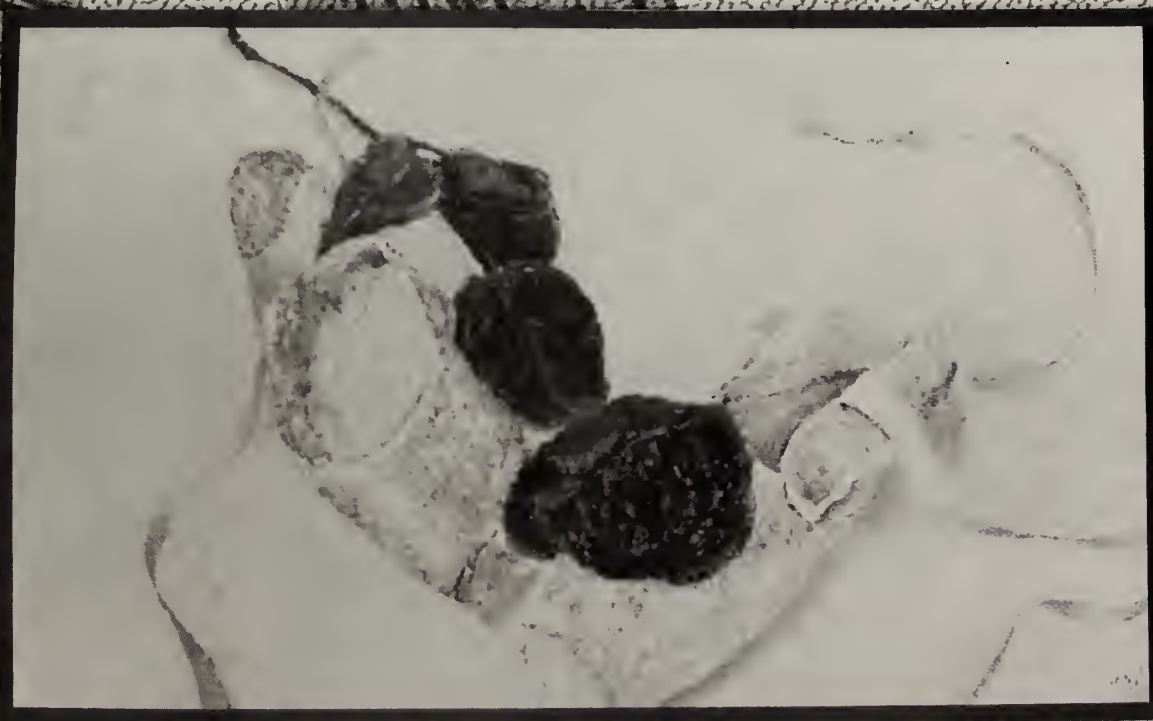

As I stand atop my mountain,
King of all that I can see,
And there's nothing I can do,
Or nothing I can be.

DRAMA

It was three magical nights in April, when eighty students danced, sang, and entertained the school and community. There were the lovely daughters, the brave police, and the rough, ROUGH! pirates. The cast was led by a strong group of grade twelves who brought the whole thing together, and who will be missed greatly next year. And as Mr. Grey would say "It had PIZZAZZ".

PIRATES WINNERS

In late April we presented a play by the famous Irish playwright, Brian Friel. The play was called "Winners" and dealt with relationships, commitment, memories and fate. While the play was essentially a tragedy, the characters had moments of great humour and tenderness.

Friel enjoys using narrators and Medina Hahn and John Reid played the part of this almost greek chorus with clarity and sensitivity. The two lovers, Mag and Joe, were portrayed beautifully by Sarah Hattingh and Aaron Bidinger. To carry a "wordy" script for 80 minutes with just two actors was a lot to ask by the Director, Mr. Phil Jarvis, but they delivered!

Mag:	Sarah Hattingh	"Stop or die!" Doug Devlin defends his Mabel
Joe:	Aaron Bidinger
Narrators:	Medina Hahn John Reid	"Surprise, surprise" Kevin Skelcher gives a surprise kiss to Janet Stevens

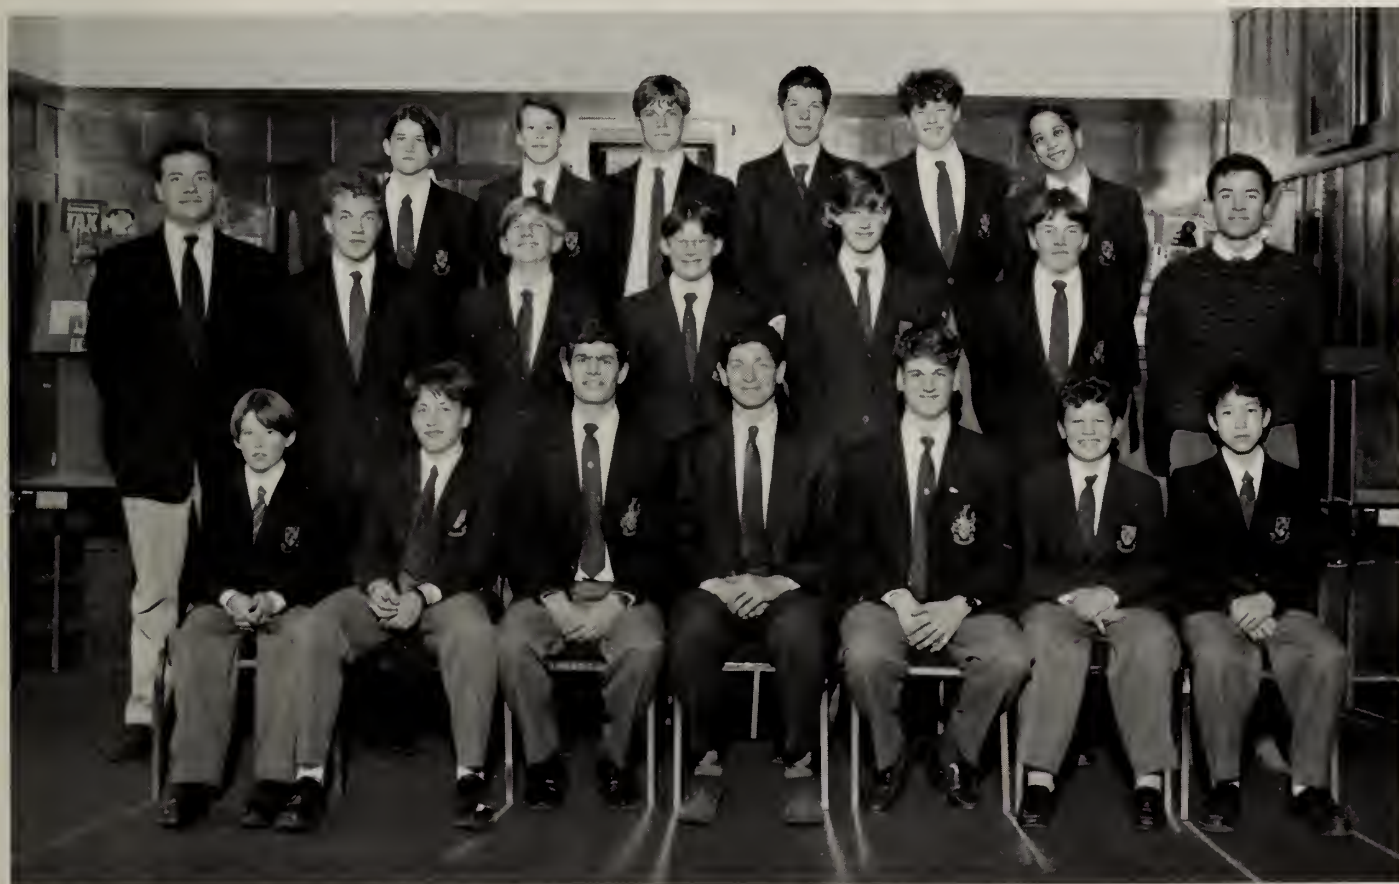

"Any plans for the afternoon?...Study" Aaron Bidinger answers Sarah Hattingh on the stage.

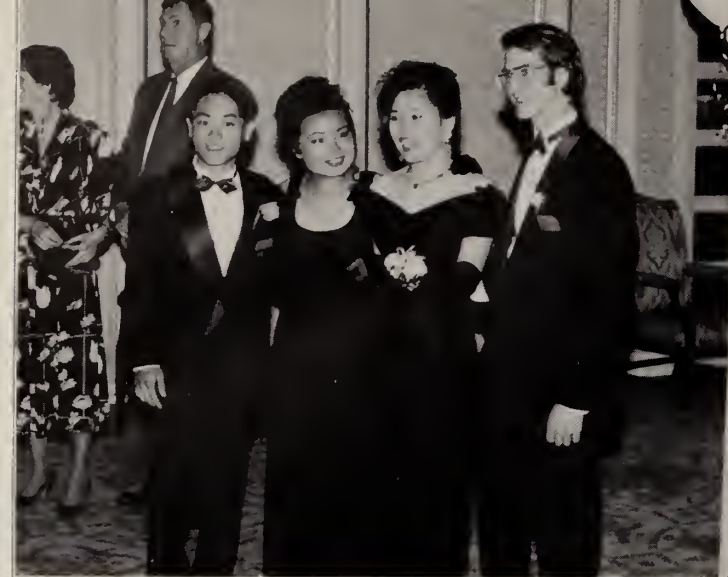

"Bearing two o'clock and full speed ahead" Janet Stevens, Doug Devlin and Doug Jocelyn order their crew.

Junior House

This year saw a new innovation at Shawnigan with the establishment of the Junior House. What had been the Annex of School House became a house for the majority of the Grade 8 boys. The idea was to create a more nurturing environment for the young students in their first year at the school. Under the careful guidance of Mr. Tim Lawry the House Director and with the invaluable assistance to two Grade 12 students Richard Nesbitt & Jason LeFevre, the boys have had a great year and the venture proved to be a positive experience.

GRAD '93

excessive Jack o' lanterns in the staff common room, making all the staff and undergrads eat breakfast off the floor, the reverse beauty pageant -> you're beautiful Bubbles!, icing the classroom block entrances, the rock hard cafeteria t-shirts, taking the chapel to new heights - (thanks Dick!), ducktaping the headmaster to a tree, moving grad to Vancouver, and evacuating the hotel at aftergrad.

This year our grad class has become very close with not only one another but with the other students. Our final year has been filled with many memories that we'll carry for the rest of our lives. As we set forth in our future endeavours it is my wish that everyone will stay in contact and the friendships that have been made here will last. Thanks for the great year!
